Mio Stool & Side Table

Thank you for acquiring the Mio Stool. We appreciate your support and are delighted to have Mio become a part of your everyday experience. In order to preserve your new Mio Stool / Side Table, here's a guide on the materials we use and how to best care for them. Following these guidelines will contribute to preserving the aesthetics and durability of your furniture, ensuring the continued maintenance of its appearance and quality.

About Oak

At Thorup Copenhagen, we work with FSC® certified wood. Oak stands out for its robust and lasting qualities, with its natural strength accentuated by a distinctive grain pattern. Embraced in both classic and contemporary Scandinavian design, oak's timeless allure is rooted in qualities such as excellence, longevity, and the craftsmanship that defines its enduring charm. Additionally, the high tannic acid content in oak contributes to an exceptionally durable wood, making it the ideal material for crafting furniture.

How to care for Oiled Oak

For best results, we suggest applying a natural wood oil to your product twice a year. The table is intended for indoor use only.

To clean, use a soft cloth dampened with clean water. Refrain from using any cleaners containing chemicals. We recommend giving the wood edges some extra care to prevent dryness and cracking in winter. If your sleek surface gets a little scratched, no worries – a light sanding and a touch oil will have it looking good as new. To maintain a sleek appearance, make sure to oil both the top and bottom of the table. Embrace the nuances – natural materials come with character and will develop a unique patina over time.

Oiling Treatment step by step

- Begin by cleaning the Mio table using a clean cloth dampened with warm water.
- Once the material is dry, apply oil onto a clean, soft cloth, or sponge—avoid pouring the oil directly onto the wood.
- Rub the oil into the wood, following the direction of the grain, covering the entire surface of the furniture piece.
- Allow the oil to soak for approximately 20 minutes, then remove any excess oil with a soft, clean, dry cloth.
- Buff the surface with a clean, soft cloth until a consistent look across the entire surface is achieved, then let it dry.
